PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 10.—The steamer Great Republic with the Pioneers returned this evening The steamer could not accommodate all who applied to go on board This fact caused great dissatisfaction, and an informal meeting of members of interior Pioneer Societies was held at Pioneers Hall between 12 and 1 o'clock this afternoon Among those present were three 1 residents of Societies P B Jackson, of Vallejo Dr I E Teegarden of Marysville and W M Boggs of Sonoma Marin Mendocino Napa and Lake counties These gentlemen expressed great dissatisfaction at the treatment they received When they reached the wharf they found the Great Republic already overcrowded with excursionists not one ha f of whom were Pioneers Upon presenting themselves at the gang plank of the steamer with tickets they were told by officers of the vessels that not another person would be allowed to go on board A President of one of the Societies, in full regalia gave his name and official connection with his Society, and demanded admission on board A ship's officer to formed him that the Society had sold so many tickets and if any more were allowed on board it would endanger the lives of all The President [illegible] his delegation on the wharf and they came up town The officers of the vessel are not blamed by the disappointed Pioneers but the Committee of arrangements are severely censured for selling tickets to others than Pioneers and to their exclusion from participation in the festivities of the day Interior Societies at the request of the San Francisco Pioneers designated one member from each society to receive tickets for all the members. Tickets were given to these committees but not enough for all the members who are here Every member of an interior society purchased his excursion ticket at the price of one dollar each Some of these visiting Pioneers brought with them their wives and children who are if possible more disappointed than are the Pioneers themselves Many of the disappointed ones went home to day At least 2000 men women and children went on the excursion

AN INSULT FROM THE CALIFORNIA GRAIN RING.—The San Francisco Commercial Herald the organ of the grain ring and the mouth piece of Friedlander & Co in its last issue accuses the Grangers of trading on the necessities of the poor, because they refused to sell grain at the prices the ring dictates This accusation will not bear the light Everybody who has education enough to read plain print knows that the prices received by the farmers for their grain bears no relation to those paid by the consumer And they know that it is the ungodly, grasping dealers who not only put up the price of bread to the poor but who also put down the price to the producer If Friedlander to day held the grain market of the world in his hand would the farmers get any higher price for their wheat and would the poor get any cheaper bread? Not a bit of it We know that two years ago when these men were offering $1 40 to needy farmers for their wheat they were selling the same at 1⅞@ 1 9 to needy consumers across the water When the Grangers perfect their system the poor man will get his bread cheaper and the farmer will get remunerative prices for his wheat —San Jose Mercury, Sept 5

A REMARKABLE FACT.—R Rulofson Esq of Strattonville Pennsylvania sends us the following remarkable fact He visited the spot and speaks from his own observation

There is 310 square feet of earth perforated by honey bees on the farm of John Lowry near Strattonville living on the main road The creatures are busily engaged in storing honey in the thousands of perforations or openings they have made in the earth and appear to have been engaged in the business for some time It is but a few inches from the wagon track to these wonderful openings

A HINT FOR GENERAL SHERMAN.—Washington Sept 6.—The Sunday Capital in speaking of the regret felt at the contemplated departure of the Sherman family from Washington says However it is not improbable and indeed, quite possible, that some day, not far in the future the Shermans may return and make their home in the White House

The conversion of a parish priest Alceste Lann to the Evangelical Church has created a sensation in Rome. He is a Doctor of Divinity and has been Professor of Philosophy at the Vatican Seminary, and teacher of mathematics at a polytechnic school

The experiment of admitting women to the franchise and even to the exercise of still more important political functions, is about to be tried in the Canton of Schwyz one of the smallest and also one of the most Ultramontane divisions of the Swiss Confederation

The taper stick' says a Liverpool paper is the latest novelty for pious pilgrims in France To all appearances it consists of an ordinary looking walking stick, but on unscrewing the head out pops the statue of a saint holding a lengthy taper in its hand, which when lighted will last long enough for a procession or a church service.

The death of another aeronaut is reported from Bojan where a man named Braquet made his 301st and last ascent. It is said that the balloon was let go before all was ready and that M Braquet was whirled aloft holding on to a cord, he managed to climb up close to the trapeze on which he was to perform when the rope snapped and he fell from an immense height and was killed

A case of considerable interest was decided by Vice Chancellor Little at Liverpool the other day Mr John Vaughan editor of the Liverpool Leader had been summoned before the Register to answer questions as to the sources of his information for articles which appeared in the Leader with reference to the Civil Service Association Mr Vaughan refused to disclose the source of information taking the responsibility of his article upon himself The Vice Chancellor decided that Mr Vaughan was not bound to answer the questions

The Cologne Chamber of Commerce in its yearly report which has just been issued complains of the adulteration or rectification as it is called, of German wines. This, it says, assumed alarming proportions last year among nearly all the vineyard proprietors of the Moselle, and among many of the makers of the Palatinate Unsugared natural wines are now scarcely to be met with in the Moselle districts and the addition of sugar goes hand in hand with liberal dilutions of water and the usual ingredients of spirits The mixture is fermented with grape-husks; it is then styled wine

PLYMOUTH CHURCH SCENES.

SPEECH OF ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, THE FAVORITE LAY ORATOR OF PLYMOUTH CHURCH—MOULTON CALLS HIM A LIAR

[From the N Y Herald]

He (Moulton) ceased to write, and listened with a concentrated attention to the speaker, who was Mr Rossiter Raymond, the favorite lay orator of Plymouth Church By this time the news had spread from the platform silently but surely to the excited multitude that the stranger who had recently taken his seat with the reporter was Mutual Friend Moulton, Mr Raymond's reference to what Mr Beecher's friends have alleged again and again are the unfavorable characteristics of Tilton and Moulton were received with

FRONTAL LAUGHTER AND IRRITATIVE APPLAUSE.

This was borne by Moulton good naturedly. Now and then he would make a rough or slangy remark in a subdued voice but there was no demonstration of anger at this time. Mr Raymond however, went on to explosive ground in the following sentences

I acquit Mr Shearman of having pettifogged the case and then criticise him for the bad advice which he certainly did give and which the rest of us were lucky enough to overrule It would have been a serious error and a great disaster for Henry Ward Beecher to have stood up, on the second or third day of this investigation to give the Committee an outline of the statement which he has since made and then, with a wave of his hand to refer to Frank D Moulton as the man who would confirm what he said [Laughter] I say that Mr Beecher would have done it—he has done it before, on two or three occasions when parties have forced themselves on his confidence and said We wish to know more than we know—we want to fight for you Mr Beecher has sent these men loyal as he was to his promise of secrecy dumb as the dead as he said—he has sent these men to Frank D Moulton, and they have gone to him and Frank D Moulton has poisoned the minds of these men with infernal lies

At the word lies Mr Moulton said in a voice that could be heard some distance from the platform,

' YOU'RE A LIAR!'

The speaker passed it unheeded, and then Mr. Moulton rose to his feet and said I say you're a liar sir? For a minute the audience had it all their own way A thousand voices were loosened in denunciatory cries at Moulton There was a panic on the platform for a short time much hurried whispering among the committee loud orders were given to Turn him out' in the midst of which Captain Byrne of the Second precinct police in citizen's dress but displaying his shield came to the side of Moulton and said to him If you attempt any disturbance I shall take you out '

MOULTON SURROUNDED BY POLICEMEN

The Captain had scarcely said these words when another policeman in plain clothes was confronting Moulton on the other side of the table From that moment he attempted no more speeches The good sense and the spirit of fair play of the audience had been appealed to by Mr Halliday and Mr White Both these gentlemen begged the audience to allow Mr Moulton to stay and hear the truth This had the desired effect and there were no more angry demonstrations till the time of Moulton's exit, though the presence of several policemen in uniform immediately in the rear of the Captain excited the audience and many rose in their places to obtain a glimpse of the man who had been the cause of all this fierce confusion Mr Raymond continued his speech in the same spirit of bitterness and intense personality.

A TALIANTE HIT

Now and then this was enlivened by a few strokes of humor which none enjoyed more than Mr Moulton and who audibly indorsed their excellence Of this character the following will serve as a specimen

Mr Beecher paid money There was no connection between the money and the effect Don't you recollect in the story of David Copperfield how David's beloved Dora lost her dog Gyp? And don't you recollect that when Gyp was advertised for there came a little boy to the door and he had no other message than this I know a dog and I wants a pound [Merriment] The owner of the dog did not contaminate himself by immediate contact with the pound but the pound was paid and the dog was forthcoming So in this case Mr Beecher paid the money It was not said how it was to help Mr Tilton it was not said how Mr Tilton was to get it Perhaps it was not even said that Tilton was to know where it came from But the money was paid and the dog suddenly appeared on the other side of the street breathing grace mercy and peace

THE NATIONAL MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.—Washington Sept 6.—The National Monument Association reports a gratifying success in its appeal for subscriptions Responses from secret societies and military organizations are particularly encouraging, and the Secretary is sanguine of the success of the enterprise during the Centennial year by this means

FRONTIER REMINISCENCE

A STORY OF CHEYENNE JEAN'S LAST TRIP ACROSS THE CONTINENT—HOW GEORGE BODINE LOST HIS SCALP AT THE BASE OF MEDICINE BOW

[From the Colorado Democrat]

The recent arrival of Ex Vice President Colfax in Denver recalls to mind a half forgotten but never before published incident growing out of his famous trip across the plains in 1864 or 65 At that time Captain Humphreville's Company K of the Eleventh Ohio Cavalry Volunteers was stationed in garrison at Fort Halleck a small log fortress on the overland stage line near the base of Medicine Bow Mountain This fort has long since been abandoned as a military post the Pacific railroad having rendered military protection to coaches unnecessary

When Colfax and his Congressional party passed through Fort Halleck the writer happened to be one of the detail of four soldiers ordered out as a special escort or count to follow the illustrious party to Bridger Pass after which we were instructed to return Our mission was performed faithfully—we saw the coach with its load of notables go dashing down the other side of the range and with merry hearts and gleeful voices turned our horses for a gallop back to the fort.

As we moved rapidly along through the sage brush and grease wood in the valley between Medicine Bow and the Elk Mountains a drove of sage hens attracted our attention and separated our party Fatal temptation! We little thought of the danger then so near us and the horrible fate awaiting the bravest and boldest of the party—poor George Bodine. He had just emptied his carbine at a sage hen or grouse when, with a chorus of horrible whoops and yells a party of Sioux rode out of a ravine which with the sage brush had concealed them from observation and after discharging a cloud of arrows mingled with slugs and bullets at us at long range galloped towards Bodine, who was by this manœuvre completely cut off from us We counted sixteen or seventeen of the bloodthirsty devils, and opened fire upon them from a friendly clump of brush in which we sought shelter

Poor George! He realized his danger in a moment his only hope of safety was in flight His horse though tired from its long gallop after the stage coach was still able to distance the scrubby ponies of the Sioux, and if he could reach the ferry at North Platte he would be safe Alas, for the bravest of comrades the pride of a proud mother and father who to this day mourn his horrible fate! His horse, frightened by the yells of the red demons in pursuit and evidently maddened by an arrow or two which had struck it became unmanageable and in a fatal moment the bridle rein broke from one side of the bit The terrified and now unrestrained brute turned towards us To reach us it must come in contact with the Sioux It was an exciting race but a hopeless one for the poor young soldier We dashed out to meet him on his fatal race. He came closer to his circling foes. His carbine he threw away and drew his Remington revolver This he emptied at the Sioux at close range and two fell headlong from their saddles We observed him crouch down forward upon his saddle as if to avoid the coming blows. But it was not for that he crouched It was the fatal coils of the lariat or lasso, which the next instant dropped over him and the next moment we heard his heart piercing shriek as he was dragged backward from his horse which galloped past us in safety

How poor George suffered while being hacked to pieces by the fifteen red fiends none can tell As we galloped away we heard his horrible cries of mercy while his scalp was being torn from his head, and to this day when thinking of that horrid incident, those screams of agony ring upon the air

THE OLDEST GRADUATE

DEATH OF SIMON WILLARD IN BOSTON—THE OLDEST GRADUATE OF THE WEST POINT MILITARY ACADEMY

On Monday August 21 at 4 o'clock P M, at his residence, 17 Boylston street passed away one of the best known citizens of Boston—Simon Willard. The subject of this notice was born in Roxbury, January 26 1795 He was the oldest son of Simon Willard of Roxbury the most celebrated inventor in the domain of time-keepers this country has ever produced The mantle of the father descended upon the son who carried the father's reputation through another generation

In 1813 he entered as cadet at the West Point Military Academy graduated with honor in 1815 was commissioned Lieutenant of artillery and stationed at Pittsburg, then one of the frontier military stations of the United States The war with Great Britain of 1812 being over at this time, and conceiving promotion in time of peace to be very slow, he resigned his commission and went into mercantile business in Roxbury his native place

Unsuccessful there, he came to Boston in 1829 and established himself at No 9 Congress street as manufacturer of clocks chronometers and watches at which place, without change, he continued till he retired from active business in 1870 a period of forty one years It is very rare in this changeful country that a person follows one avocation on one spot for nigh half a century, but to the present and past generations of merchants and business men the name of Simon Willard of 9 Congress street was as familiar as household words His genial manner, urbanity and somewhat old fashioned courtesy gained for him hosts of friends while his reputation for accuracy and excellence in his peculiar art, and for business probity and uprightness stood unrivaled His word was always as good as his bond

At the time of his death he was the oldest graduate of the West Point Military Academy and president of the association of graduates of that institution He presided at the dinner given by the alumni at West Point in 1873, when President Grant and General Sherman were present and again in June 1874 which was his last appearance in public. After his return from West Point in June his health failed rapidly, and he finally succumbed to the asthmatic disease which had afflicted him for forty years in the eightieth year of his age honored and respected by all who knew him

He was for many years president of the Cary Improvement Company and the Boston Chess Club, and held many offices of honor and trust He married in 1821 Eliza, eldest daughter of Zabdiel Adams, of Roxbury who survives him

CURIOUS, BUT TRUE.—A gentleman at Lake George after waving his handkerchief for half an hour or more at an unknown lady whom he discovered at a distant point on the shore, was encouraged by a warm response to his signal to approach his charmer Imagine his feelings when on drawing nearer he saw that it was his own dear wife whom he had left at the hotel but a short time before.

Why how remarkable we should have recognized each other at such a distance exclaimed both in the same breath and then they changed the subject

THE ESCAPE BOX.—It is stated in the reports of the different prisons of Paris that five or six thieves die annually in jail from the effects of swallowing this box It is of polished steel about three inches long and contains turnscrews hammers silk thread and every implement necessary for escape. The box is easily swallowed but sometimes refuses to glide along the intestinal canal as expected and often causes death When however it does appear the thief is in possession of implements with which he can saw through the thickest bars

THE RAILROAD MURDER.—The citizens of Henryville Ind have offered a reward of $1 000 for the apprehension of the murderers of August Gardner who was robbed of his money and then tied to the railroad track Bob Thomas and Lewis E Clark have been arrested on suspicion of being the murderers The greatest excitement prevails at Henryville, and if the evidence is anyway conclusive there may be trouble as it is reported a vigilance committee has been organized

Mr O C Applegate writing from the mountain valley of Swan Lake, in the range south of Klamath reservation says The summer has been delightful this side of the mountains. The nights even have usually been quite warm and crops are quite good. It will surprise you a little, I presume, to learn that in a land over 4 000 feet above the level of old ocean and proverbial for its summer frosts cucumbers are being picked for winter use and tomatoes are maturing All energies are united in haying, the continuous snow storms of over 100 days last winter having made the necessity of making hay while the sun shines fearfully apparent

A letter to the Salem Record from Polk county says Farmers are getting along finely, taking care of their crops, with perhaps ten days' work for their headers to do yet and then the harvest of 74 will be finished in our vicinity and ready for market It is a strange fact to record that snow fell on the night of August 30th in the hills at Mr Ruble's place five miles from Salem, of sufficient depth for a rabbit to be easily tracked but the morning sunshine came out in full strength dispelled the clouds and a new and beautiful day shone out over the hills and the heads of the harvesters so that by 10 o'clock all hands were heading at a busy rate.

The Secretary of the State Agricultural Society informs the Record that in a few days he will purchase as directed by the Board the silverware offered for premiums in Divisions L and M (Ladies and Misses Departments) of the Premium List to-wit To the persons taking the highest number of first premiums not less than seven silver plate valued at $25 and to the person taking the second highest number of first premiums not less than five silver plate valued at $15 The same conditions rule in the Divisions for Misses under 14 years of age and for the highest number of first premiums silverware valued at $15, for the second highest silverware valued at $10

DEAD OR ALIVE

There is unmistakable evidence that that the Civil Service Reform of which so much was said just before the last election for President is still alive. We note this fact because a great many people entertain the mistaken notion that it has been dead for some time. Among these we are constrained to confess we have been till just now. Indeed, in all its potential parts the whole system of Civil Service Reform did break down with the first severe strain that came upon it, and having failed in all important respects, it was but natural to assume that it had given up the ghost. Congress thought either that it was dead or that it ought to be, and declined to make any provision for its sustenance. So it can hardly be considered downright stupidity for people who are not so intimately connected with Government as Congressmen are to have fallen into the same error. But it is an error nevertheless. The Civil Service Reform is alive and as well as could be expected, as has recently come to light by the merest accident in the world. The accident happened in this wise. Somehow or other the Springfield Republican became possessed of the knowledge that a series of low pressure examinations was going on at Washington, where, it is to be presumed, a number of boys were being weighed in the balance to ascertain their proficiency in theological studies preparatory to a decision on their candidature for cadetships in the naval academy. This possibly was not the exact nature of the cases, but the statement is doubtless in the main correct. The Republican having learned this startling fact, mentioned it editorially, adding a remark to the effect that the Commissioners of the Reform would probably be surprised if not positively shocked to learn that the thing at whose funeral they had taken so conspicuous a part was really resurrected and threatened to become a very active corpse. This brought to his feet Mr Dorman B Eaton, a member of the Commission, who declares in a published letter that the Reform has been neither dead nor sleeping, but has been enjoying a tolerably fair state of health all the while, the general impression to the contrary notwithstanding. And he furthermore declares it to be his deliberate opinion that not the President but Congress is standing in the way of Reform and that the President is ardently attached to the "good cause" and is bound to keep it afloat on his own responsibility, since Congress refuses to help him do so. Under these circumstances Mr Eaton indignantly denies the insinuation that he or any of his fellow Commissioners are surprised or thrilled to learn the facts mentioned by the Republican, and avers that those facts should astonish no person. The funeral was a sham and the body supposed to be put away was no such "demnition damp, disagreeable body" as was supposed.

We can scarcely divine what all this means. It cannot be that the civil service farce is to be commenced as early as this for the next Presidential election. And yet it is impossible to conceive what other use the revival of it can be put to. The idea that there is any sincere desire to carry out the principles of the Reform as contained in the promises that elected Grant in 1872 is simply absurd and idiotic. Bad faith was shown immediately after the election in particular instances and in a very short time the rules the President and his Commission had prescribed were openly and habitually violated and disregarded by themselves. The Civil Service Reform was dead for all beneficial purposes as soon as the election was over and yet it is still alive. Somebody is to be cheated by this last performance.

WE ONLY STATE THE FACTS

Remarking on the condition of the wheat market a few days since, after stating some reasons that led us to conclude the probabilities were against any considerable advance in prices, we added

> We do not assume to advise the farmers as they know their own business, and may be relied upon to take care of it; we merely mention the elements that necessarily enter into the problem they are solving for themselves

The Bulletin criticises us saying

> It seems to us this is blowing hot and cold in the same breath—giving advice and advising against it

No doubt it does seem so to the editor of the railway organ. It is not the first, nor the second time he has shown himself incapable of taking distinctions that are plain to intelligent persons.

In the same article in which the above exhibitions of his stupidity is made by the editor of the Bulletin, he says "the Oregonian a few weeks ago before the harvesting season had opened advised the farmers to hold on to their wheat until late in the shipping season." The Oregonian did not advise the farmers to do any such thing a few weeks ago nor at any other time. The Oregonian has always given its readers all the facts it possessed that had any bearing upon the produce market and has refrained from offering advice presuming they understood their own business and could reason from the facts for themselves. We cannot pretend to say whether the statement of the Bulletin that the Oregonian gave such advice to the farmers is intentionally mendacious, or simply another specimen of its stupidity. It is certainly one or the other, and it would be the merest conjecture to attempt to decide from the course of that paper in the past which is the more likely to be the true explanation.

The railway organ closes its article with the exceedingly truthful and appropriate remark

> The press of the State—in this city or in the interior—can do a good deal better and more to the advantage of the farmers as well as of all others, apply the sum of their influence to the fostering of our young commerce than in acting the drummer or runner for or against the railroad or the rival steamboat line by which the wheat to load the ships for ports abroad must be brought to the export market

It is gratifying to know that most of the journals of this State and city are conducted on the high and honorable principles here recommended by the railway organ. But if that paper should reform its practice to a conformity with its preaching, both its occupation and its supplies would be gone. We don't advise the Bulletin, however; we only state the facts.

EAST AND WEST

Much has been said, especially since the beginning of the currency agitation, about the diversity of Eastern and Western commercial interests. The West is generally assumed to occupy a position of hostility to the East in her material necessities. The East wants contraction of the currency, the West expansion. The East wants tariff, the West free trade. The East wants low prices for farm produce and high prices for the products of skilled mechanical labor, the West high prices for the former and low ones for the latter.

Such views are wholly superficial. True some men very intelligent and clear headed in other respects, act as if the assumed antagonism of interests did actually exist to the extent generally supposed, but it is a superficial view nevertheless. The two sections of the Republic are so related to each other, and the prosperity of each is so dependent upon that of the other, that any general decline of the one must result in depression of the other. A New England paper states the case truly and forcibly in the following paragraph

> All the talk about the West being concerned in a financial policy different from that which is for the interest of the East to adopt and that we here are naturally or by conviction hostile to Western views is obviously absurd to every thoughtful man. Our manufacturers of course would like cheap provisions but if they are so cheap that the West cannot make a good living and thus freely buy Eastern products paralysis and not profit would be the result. And so in all other respects. Massachusetts does best when the rest of the country is in the most flourishing condition. Not only do our manufactures of all kinds then find the best markets but our capitalists have the widest and most profitable field for investments and the general activity of business conduces even to the advantage of our own agriculturists.

SHIPPING AND GRAIN MARKET IN NEW YORK

A New York letter of September 5th, reports a considerable decline in freight charges thence to foreign ports. The harbor is full of vessels that have gone to that port in ballast upon representations of irresponsible persons of the certainty of obtaining cargoes at remunerative rates. They are now willing to make engagements at figures that will barely save them from loss. Two vessels have loaded for Australia,—one for Melbourne and one for Sydney—at the low rate of 30 shillings. It is also stated that there is an unusually large amount of American shipping lying in the Atlantic harbors waiting for something to turn up. The general reduction of freights has produced a corresponding stiffening in the wheat market. An appreciation of from 3 to 5 cents is reported, with less of timidity among purchasers. As this improvement is dependent solely upon the circumstances alluded to, in connection with the carrying, it cannot be taken as any indication of general improvement in the grain trade. The cause being local the effect will likewise be local, that is, it will be confined to those districts that find their outlet on the Atlantic seaboard.

The Maine election is to be held next Monday. All the six Congressmen have been renominated. There is no third candidate for Governor, as there was last year and the contest is between the Republicans and Democrats straight. Last year the Republicans carried the State by 1 308 majority. The third candidate received 2130 votes mostly Republicans. This year with no defection in their ranks, the Republicans if they hold their own will carry the State by about 15,000.

A certain publication purporting to be a "Pacific Coast Directory," published by D M Bishop & Co, having been foisted upon the people of Oregon and the Pacific Coast generally, the publisher of begs leave to call attention to the fact that he is in nowise connected with the first mentioned publication, and to invite a comparison between the two works, the editions of Langley's publication for 1867 and 1871 being extensively circulated among the business men of Portland. He would further state that Mr Bishop makes mention of but thirteen towns and localities in the whole State, and that the following important places are omitted altogether: Ashland, Auburn, Aurora, Amity, Butteville, Brownsville, Baker City, Canyon City, Dallas, Empire City, Forest Grove, Gardiner, Hillsboro, Independence, Kerbyville, Lebanon, Milwaukie, McMinnville, Oswego, Springfield, Silverton, Scio, Sheridan and The Dalles—twenty-one towns, some of which are among the most important business centers of the State.

Langley's Pacific Coast Business Directory

For 1871 contains a description and directory of over One Hundred and Twenty-five places in Oregon alone, and it will be the aim of the publisher to make the forthcoming edition, which will be issued in December next, still more perfect and complete.

AND AMPUTATED.—Yesterday morning a German named Julius Werdeking, residing near Scholl's ferry, met with a severe accident while he was engaged in loading a gun preparatory to starting out on a hunt. When the ball was nearly down, it became wedged in a piece of the powder, so it could not be moved. In endeavoring to force the bullet home the ramrod became fast. Werdeking, in order to extricate it, unscrewed the breech pin and emptied the powder. He then drove in a plug of wood an inch in length and poured in a charge of powder. The breech pin was screwed in and the barrel secured in the vise. Foolish as it may appear, Werdeking then discharged the weapon. The barrel was blown into fragments and the German's hand frightfully mangled—literally torn to shreds. In that condition Werdeking was brought to the city. Dr. Chapman was called, and on an examination of the man's injuries pronounced amputation necessary. This operation was accordingly performed by Dr Chapman, assisted by Dr Watkins. The shattered portions of the hand were taken off at the wrist. At latest accounts Werdeking was doing nicely. He now bitterly repents his haste and folly.

CHARGED WITH MAYHEM.—Two men, named House and Coburn, who reside up the Wall street, engaged in an altercation on Wednesday evening. Between these persons, for some time past, a misunderstanding had existed, which on that particular occasion culminated in an open rencounter. In the row which followed Coburn, who it seems, was trying to eject House from his room, had one finger nearly bitten off and an eye gouged out of the socket. Coburn had House arrested on the charge of mayhem. An examination of the case will take place this morning in Police Court.

A MINE.—A gentleman who has been engaged surveying on the lower Columbia laid on our table yesterday specimens of red oxide, which it is said, makes a splendid article of paint. Some months ago a quantity of it was brought to this city, and has been thoroughly tested by a practical painter, who pronounces it first-class. When ground and mixed with oil the article assumes a dark red hue and serves excellently for priming. Large quantities are found in a certain locality down the river. It assumes a wall-like ledge about 20 feet wide, and from five to six feet deep. The ledge is situated but a short distance from the river. A [illegible] to this mine, and the intention of the owners is to develop it.

PASSENGERS.—The Ajax, sailing hence for San Francisco, carried away the following passengers: Rev T J Connor and wife, W Williams and wife, Mrs P S Moose, T B Smith, T E Brown, J B Hunt, E. A. Kelley, T D Clarke, W A Cardell, Colonel U S A, J G Scott, James Davis, S. S. Hayes, C Powell and wife, G D [illegible], Holton, O F Sites, James Orkarey, [illegible] G Kyle, C H Intermela, T Hanford, Stephenson, F Witherington, Miss Caro[illegible], Mrs Somerly, Miss Addie Williams, West, J B Trask and boy, Thos Sooy and child, Louis Solins and wife, B Bar[illegible] and wife, Wells, Fargo & Co's [illegible], the steerage.

HEAVY FALL.—A son of Hon. J. S. M. [illegible] met with a very severe fall on Wednesday and narrowly escaped a sudden death. While the young man was at work on Flanders wharf (Greenwich) in the northern part of the city, he slipped and fell a distance of twenty three feet. The [illegible] of the fall was so severe that for some time he remained insensible. As soon as he came to he was taken across the river to his father's house, and Dr Raffety summoned to attend him. Yesterday the physician reported the condition of the young man as greatly improved, and expresses the opinion that he will shortly be able to walk about.

BEEF PACKING.—Mr West, of Westport, is engaged in canning large quantities of beef for shipment. He has in his employ a considerable force of Chinamen, who are putting up quantities of it every day. On Wednesday morning 40 slaughtered [illegible], and quarters of beef were taken down from [illegible] land. Twenty five head of live cattle were taken down the first part of the [illegible], and this morning another installment will be sent below to supply the demand. [illegible] cases of this canned meat was brought [illegible] a few days ago and has been shipped [illegible]

UNDER ARREST.—A few days ago a complaint was preferred by Angeline Kennard, against [illegible] Tice, charging him with [illegible]. Tice was at Corvallis at the time, and Officer McCoy was sent after him, armed with a warrant. He overhauled Thomas and brought him down to Portland. One thousand dollars bail was required for his appearance, which was given, and the defendant released. An examination of the case will take place in Police Court next Tuesday.

AN EXPRESS THIEF SUED.—T. L. Budlong, well known in Kalama, was sued in the County Court on the 1st inst by Mr [illegible]field to recover $150, a debt contracted in Portland for defending him in the express robbery case. Budlong stated in Court that the [illegible] sent to him in a letter had been attached, and that he was without means of any kind.

PORTLAND ACADEMY.—This institution of learning has commenced its first quarter with the following full board of instruction: Rev T. Royal, A M, Principal; Mrs M A Royal, Preceptress; W W E Royal, Assistant; Mrs [illegible], Drawing and Painting; Mrs M A [illegible] and Miss M E Lambertson, Teachers Instrumental Music.

NEW HOSPITAL.—The brick basement of St Vincent's Hospital is nearly completed. Since the grounds have been cleared off the site has been greatly improved and large numbers of visitors express their delight at the pleasantness of the location and the beautiful prospect enjoyed from the contemplated position of the building.

EPISCOPAL VISIT.—We learn that Rev Bishop Seghers of Vancouver's Island, accompanied by Father A J Brabant, left Victoria on the 1st ult in the schooner Surprise for the purpose of visiting the Indian tribes scattered along the west coast of Vancouver's Island. Bishop Seghers is to be absent about two months.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' COURT.—Thus far the County Commissioners have transacted but little business besides passing a few bills. Yesterday the Court adjourned until next Wednesday 16th inst at 10 o'clock A M. On convening the Court will proceed at once to the examination of the assessment rolls.

IN THE RIVER.—A bark the name of which is unknown and a schooner supposed to be the [illegible] were both reported in the river. These vessels were in tow of the Brenham when passed by the Astoria boat. Both will reach the city to-day.

MEETING.—This evening there will be a meeting of the Woman's Working Union and Prayer League at the vestry of the Taylor Street M. E. Church. A full attendance is [illegible]

DEAD OR ALIVE

There is unmistakable evidence that that the Civil Service Reform of which so much was said just before the last election for President is still alive We note this fact, because a great many people entertain the mistaken notion that it has been dead for some time Among these, we are constrained to confess we have been till just now Indeed, in all its potential parts the whole system of Civil Service Reform did break down with the first severe strain that came upon it, and having failed in all important respects, it was but natural to assume that it had given up the ghost Congress thought either that it was dead, or that it ought to be, and declined to make any provision for its sustenance. So it can hardly be considered downright stupidity for people who are not so intimately connected with Government as Congressmen are, to have fallen into the same error But it is an error nevertheless The Civil Service Reform is alive and as well as could be expected, as has recently come to light by the merest accident in the world The accident happened in this wise Somehow or other the Springfield Republican became possessed of the knowledge that a series of low pressure examinations was going on at Washington, where, it is to be presumed a number of boys were being weighed in the balance to ascertain their proficiency in theological studies, preparatory to a decision on their candidature for cadetships in the naval academy This possibly was not the exact nature of the cases, but the statement is doubtless in the main correct The Republican having learned this startling fact, mentioned it editorially, adding a remark to the effect that the Commissioners of the Reform would probably be surprised, if not positively shocked, to learn that the thing at whose funeral they had taken so conspicuous a part was really resurrected and threatened to become a very active corpse This brought to his feet Mr Dorman B Eaton, a member of the Commission, who declares in a published letter that the Reform has been neither dead nor sleeping, but has been enjoying a tolerably fair state of health all the while the general impression to the contrary notwithstanding And he furthermore declares it to be his deliberate opinion that not the President, but Congress is standing in the way of Reform and that the President is ardently attached to the "good cause," and is bound to keep it afloat on his own responsibility, since Congress refuses to help him do so Under these circumstances Mr Eaton indignantly denies the insinuation that he or any of his fellow Commissioners are surprised or thrilled to learn the facts mentioned by the Republican, and avers that those facts should astonish no person The funeral was a sham and the body supposed to be put away was no such a "demnition damp, disagreeable body" as was supposed

We can scarcely divine what all this means It cannot be that the civil service farce is to be commenced as early as this for the next Presidential election And yet it is impossible to conceive what other use the revival of it can be put to The idea that there is any sincere desire to carry out the principles of the Reform as contained in the promises that elected Grant in 1872 is simply absurd and idiotic Bad faith was shown immediately after the election in particular instances and in a very short time the rules the President and his Commission had prescribed were openly and habitually violated and disregarded by themselves The Civil Service Reform was dead for all beneficial purposes as soon as the election was over, and yet it is still alive Somebody is to be cheated by this last performance

Remarking on the condition of the wheat market a few days since, after stating some reasons that led us to conclude the probabilities were against any considerable advance in prices, we added

> We do not assume to advise the farmers as they know their own business, and may be relied upon to take care of it we merely mention the elements that necessarily enter into the problem they are solving for themselves

The Bulletin criticises us saying

> It seems to us this is blowing hot and cold in the same breath—giving advice and advising against it

No doubt it does seem so to the editor of the railway organ It is not the first, nor the second time he has shown himself incapable of taking distinctions that are plain to intelligent persons

In the same article in which the above exhibitions of his stupidity is made by the editor of the Bulletin, he says "the OREGONIAN a few weeks ago before the harvest season had opened, advised the farmers to hold on to their wheat until late in the shipping season" The OREGONIAN did not advise the farmers to do any such thing a few weeks ago, nor at any other time The OREGONIAN has always given its readers all the facts it possessed that had any bearing upon the produce market, and has refrained from offering advice presuming they understood their own business, and could reason from the facts for themselves We cannot pretend to say whether the statement of the Bulletin that the OREGONIAN gave such advice to the farmers is intentionally mendacious, or simply another specimen of its stupidity It is certainly one or the other, and it would be the merest conjecture to attempt to decide from the course of that paper in the past which is the more likely to be the true explanation

> The press of the State—in this city or in the interior—can a good deal better and more to the advantage of the farmers as well as of all others apply the sum of their influence to the fostering of our young commerce than in enacting the drummer or runner for or against the railroad or the rival steamboat lines by which the wheat to load the ships for ports abroad must be brought to the export market

It is gratifying to know that most of the journals of this State and city are conducted on the high and honorable principles here recommended by the railway organ But if that paper should reform its practice to a conformity with its preaching, both its occupation and its supplies would be gone We don't advise the Bulletin, however, we only state the facts

Much has been said, especially since the beginning of the currency agitation, about the diversity of Eastern and Western commercial interests The West is generally assumed to occupy a position of hostility to the East in her material necessities The East wants contraction of the currency, the West expansion The East wants tariff, the West, free trade The East wants low prices for farm produce and high prices for the products of skilled mechanical labor, the West high prices for the former and low ones for the latter

Such views are wholly superficial True, some men very intelligent and clear headed in other respects, act as if the assumed antagonism of interests did actually exist to the extent generally supposed, but it is a superficial view nevertheless The two sections of the Republic are so related to each other, and the prosperity of each is so dependent upon that of the other, that any general decline of the one must result in depression of the other A New England paper states the case truly and forcibly in the following paragraph

> All the talk about the West being concerned in a financial policy different from that which is for the interest of the East to adopt and that we here are naturally or by conviction hostile to Western views is obviously absurd to every thoughtful man Our manufacturers of course would like cheap provisions but if they are so cheap that the West cannot make a good living and thus freely buy Eastern products paralysis and not profit would be the result And so in all other respects, Massachusetts does best when the rest of the country is in the most flourishing condition Not only do our manufactures of all kinds then find the best markets, but our capitalists have the widest and most profitable field for investments and the general activity of business conduces even to the advantage of our own agriculturists

A New York letter, of September 5th, reports a considerable decline in freight charges thence to foreign ports The harbor is full of vessels that have gone to that port in ballast upon representations of irresponsible persons of the certainty of obtaining cargoes at remunerative rates. They are now willing to make engagements at figures that will barely save them from loss. Two vessels have loaded for Australia,—one for Melbourne and one for Sydney—at the low rate of 30 shillings It is also stated that there is an unusually large amount of American shipping lying in the Atlantic harbors waiting for something to turn up The general reduction of freights has produced a corresponding stiffening in the wheat market. An appreciation of from 3 to 5 cents is reported, with less of timidity among purchasers. As this improvement is dependent solely upon the circumstances alluded to, in connection with the carrying, it cannot be taken as any indication of general improvement in the grain trade The cause being local the effect will likewise be local, that is, it will be confined to those districts that find their outlet on the Atlantic seaboard

The Maine election is to be held next Monday All the six Congressmen have been renominated There is no third candidate for Governor, as there was last year, and the contest is between the Republicans and Democrats straight Last year the Republicans carried the State by 13 308 majority The third candidate received 2130 votes mostly Republicans This year, with no defection in their ranks, the Republicans if they hold their own will carry the State by about 15 000

AMPUTATED — Yesterday morning a young German named Julius Werdeking residing near St. John's ferry met with a severe accident while he was engaged in loading a gun preparatory to starting out on a hunt. When the ball was nearly down and within a few inches of the powder it became wedged in and could not be moved. In endeavoring to force the bullet home the ramrod broke. Werdeking in order to extricate the ball unscrewed the breech pin and emptied the powder. He then drove in a plug of wood one inch in length and poured in a large charge of powder. The breech pin was then screwed on and the barrel secured in the stock. Foolish as it may appear Werdeking then discharged the weapon. The barrel was shattered into fragments and the German's hand frightfully mangled—literally torn into shreds. In that condition Werdeking was brought to the city. Dr Chapman was called and on an examination of the man's arm pronounced amputation necessary. This operation was accordingly performed by Dr Chapman assisted by Dr Watkins. The shattered portions of the hand were taken off at the wrist. At latest accounts Werdeking was doing nicely. He now bitterly repents his rash and folly

CHARGED WITH MAYHEM —Two men, named House and Coburn, who reside up Hall street, engaged in an altercation on yesterday evening. Between these persons for some time past, a misunderstanding had existed which on that particular occasion culminated in an open rencounter. In the row Coburn who it seems, was trying to eject House from his room, had one finger nearly bitten off and an eye almost gouged out of the socket. Coburn then had House arrested on the charge of mayhem. An examination of the case will take place this morning in Police Court

RED PAINT MINE —A gentleman who has been engaged surveying on the lower Columbia land brought up yesterday specimens of red oxide which it is said, makes a splendid article of paint. Some months ago a quantity of paint was brought to this city, and has been thoroughly tested by a practical painter, who pronounces it first-class. When ground and mixed with oil the article assumes a dark hue and serves excellently for priming. Large quantities are found in a certain ledge on the river. It assumes a well defined ledge, about 20 feet wide and from five feet deep. The ledge is situated but a short distance from the river. A road is being made to this mine and the intention of the owners is to develop it

PASSENGERS —The Ajax, sailing hence for San Francisco carried away the following passengers Rev T J Connor and wife W Wilkins and wife, Mrs P S Moore, T B Smith, J E Brown, J B Hunt E A Quigley, T D Clarke W A Cardell, Colonel J G Scott, James Davis, S B Powell and wife, G D Shannon O F Sites, James Orkarey, Lieut C H Intrnuela T Hanford, F Witherington Miss Curo Mrs Somerby Miss Addie Williams J B Trask and boy Thos Sooy and child Louis Bohns and wife B Bar and wife, Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger in the steerage

HEAVY FALL —A son of Hon J S M met with a very severe fall on Wednesday and narrowly escaped a sudden death. While the young man was at work on the wharf, (Greenwich) in the upper part of the city he slipped and fell a distance of forty three feet. The concussion of the fall was so severe that for some time he was insensible. As soon as he came to the river to his father's residence and Dr. was summoned to attend him, the physician reported the condition of the young man as greatly improved and expressed the opinion that he will shortly be able to walk about.

BEEF PACKING—Mr West, of Wesport, is engaged in canning large quantities of beef. He has in his employ a large force of Chinamen who are put of it every day. On morning 40 slaughtered sheep and of beef were taken down from Twenty five head of live cattle were taken down the first part of the present week, and this ing another installment to supply the demand. The cases of this canned meat was brought days ago and has been shipped East

A few days ago a complaint was preferred, by Angeline Kennard, against Tice, charging him with stealing. Tice was at Corvallis at the time and McCoy was sent after him armed with a warrant. He overhauled Thomas and brought him down to Portland. One thousand dollars was required for his appearance, which was given and the defendant released. An examination of the case will take place in Police Court next Tuesday.

ST VINCENT'S HOSPITAL —The brick basement of St Vincent's Hospital is nearly completed. Since the grounds have been cleared off the site has greatly improved, and large numbers of visitors express their delight at the pleasant the location and the beautiful prospect from the contemplated position of the building.

EPISCOPAL VISIT —We learn that Rev Bishop Seghers of Vancouver's Island accompanied by Father A J Brabant, left Victoria on the 31st ult in the schooner Surprise for the purpose of visiting the Indian tribes along the west coast of Vancouver's Island. Bishop Seghers is to be absent about months

COMMISSIONERS COURT —Thus far the County Commissioners have transacted but little business a few bills. Yesterday the adjourned until next Wednesday 16th at 9 o'clock A M. On convening the Court will proceed at once to the examination of the assessment rolls.

IN THE RIVER—A bark the name of which is unknown and a schooner supposed to be the are both reported in the river. They were in tow of the Predham when seen by the Astoria boat. Both will reach the city to-day

MEETING—This evening there will be a meeting of the Woman's Working Union and League at the vestry of the Taylor M E Church. A full attendance is requested.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Gunsmiths are busy

Heavy shower yesterday

The hotels are doing well

Times are lively at the Capital

The job printers are busy just now

Legislature will convene on Monday

Wheat is coming down in large quantities

Weekly OREGONIAN now ready. Send a copy East

Our merchants are filling up—with new stock

Streets flooded at times—just after the showers

Lively times in the Police Court yesterday morning

The voice of the wild goose is heard in the land once more

A new awning is the latest addition to the St Charles Hotel

Corbett's extension to the Central Wharf is almost completed

The Oceanean was towed down the river yesterday morning

Autumnal tints are deepening in the woods surrounding the city

All the sewing machine agencies have centered on Third street

See corrected list of post offices on fourth page. Cut it out for reference

The buildings recently damaged by fire and water will probably be torn down

The mail boat arrived from the Cascades at 7 30 last evening,—earlier than usual

Remember the grand railroad meeting at the Court House to morrow evening

The Greenwich wharf below the west side depot is being roofed. It needs a roof

The followers of St Crispin are going to organize for purposes of mutual protection

Charley Cole after weeks of sickness is at his post and ready to deliver letters to the fair sex

Twenty vessels in port and in the river on the way sixteen of which are foreign bound grain vessels

The Washington Guard talk target excursion, and the event will take place latter part of the month

Thompson's Circus is at Victoria and will be here in time to show a few nights and then attend the Fair

The benefit ball announced to take place at Voos Villa this evening has been postponed until next Friday evening

There is some talk of the several military organizations of the city attending the Fair and having a grand parade

Salmon fishing is all over down the river. Only a little work is going forward at some of the fisheries—putting up salt salmon

On the 7th inst a German named John G Green, employed at Mengs logging camp near Olympia dropped dead of heart disease

A beautiful rainbow spanned the river yesterday. Of course it took considerable rain and a little sprinkle of sunshine to produce it

Cremation has its advocates in Olympia. It is performed by putting drunken Indians in a wooden jail. The floor of the furnace is being laid

Legislators are beset with a crowd of hungry applicants. 'Tis the old saying. Ten thousand are their tongue and only seats for nine"

Old 'Tripe Fritz' isn't happy. He interviewed the Police Court yesterday morning. It was a compound drunk and three days was the sentence

Among the freight carried by the Stephens on her trip to San Francisco last week was 40 tons pig iron, 895 sacks flour 976 hides 40 bales skins 1 027 sacks oats 1 233 bags flax seed, 3 852 cases and barrels salmon 380 boxes fruit, 209 boxes eggs 43 pkgs butter

The proposed schedule of arrivals and departures of mails in the new advertisement for bids, on the Sound route creates much dissatisfaction. It is claimed that no steamer on the coast can make the time required even in reasonably calm weather much less during times of heavy blows and storms

LECTURE TO YOUNG PEOPLE.

The following correspondence will serve as its own explanation

PORTLAND Sept 10 1874

REV MR BRADFORD—Dear Sir. We the undersigned, would respectfully request that you should before completing your course of lectures deliver one especially to young people said lecture to be given at such a time as best suits your convenience

Mr Wm G Steel and others. I sincerely thank you for your kind invitation to deliver a lecture 'especially to the young people.' It will give me pleasure to respond to your request and I will name Sunday evening September 13th as the time on which I will deliver the lecture you desire. My subject will be 'The Story of Youth.' Sincerely yours

A H BRADFORD

PERSONAL.

Judge Blanchard of Columbia county, is making a flying visit to Portland

Rev T J Connor one of the recently elected Bishops of the United Brethren Church of Oregon, was among the passengers on the outgoing steamer. He is en route to the East to attend the session of the General Conference of that Church

Rev T Edwin Brown a young minister of acknowledged talent and great promise left on the last steamer for his home in Rochester New York. He has been sojourning some weeks in Portland, having been induced to visit California and Oregon for the improvement of his health which has been poor for some time. The warmest wishes of a host of friends Mr Brown made during his brief stay here will accompany him to his Eastern home

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Particular attention is called to the advertisement of the Masonic Savings and Loan Bank, San Francisco

Chas Hirschel & Co have opened at 77 Front street with an entire new stock of stationery blank books Yankee notions etc and invite the public to call and examine their goods. The country trade is solicited. Observe card in another column

Dr S Parker has located at Oregon City and informs the citizens of that place that he has excellent vaccine matter and will vaccinate free of charge. Precaution is better than cure and the doctor's offer should be taken advantage of

The largest human faced owl, the finest African monkey and the tamest coyote in the United States at the Museum

Three animals two birds three hundred insects and two reptiles in the Museum that are unknown in science

Universal tobacco a new and prime article. Finest brands of imported and domestic cigars at Bachman's 90 First street next to Waller Bros

Dr Steele's Medical Wonder is doing more to cure the rheumatism neuralgia cramp colic and other pains in Oregon than any other preparation. It removes the cause safe, reliable and sure

FIRST OF THE SEASON —Last week Messrs Beck & Waldman opened the first lot of Fall Styles in Clothing. The purchase was made by Mr Beck while in San Francisco and he has certainly made a most excellent selection. The styles are new and will fit to a ready sale. Beck & Waldman are making a specialty of Boys Clothing and fond parents should note this when they are out buying clothing for their darlings. Now is the time. Prices low enough to suit all classes. Call and examine. No trouble to show goods

Kohn's clerks were busy yesterday in arranging the new stock of Boys apparel. In the new display fond parents can find anything to fit their little boys—be they young or old. In addition to the above a fine assortment of Gents suits Furnishing Goods etc have been opened. Mr Kohn is making many fine selections during his stay in San Francisco. Call to-day and you will find every thing as stated

Rev W S Baird A M editor of the Baltimore Episcopal Methodist died on the 1st ult after a lingering illness

Rev C H Hoxie favored us with a sight of his genial countenance on Wednesday last. He was bound for Steilacoom, W T his present field of labor

We notice that Rev W H Rogers A M, of the Western New York Conference has been elected Principal of the Nunda Academy. Prof Rogers has had twenty years successful experience in teaching

Rev Thomas A Morris D D senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church died at his residence in Springfield, Ohio on September 1, 1874, aged about 80 years. Bishop Morris was a short thick set heavy man physically one capable of great endurance. He was once editor of the Western Christian Advocate, and his articles were usually brief clear and practical. He published a volume of sermons which are considered models of simplicity perspicuity and adaptation to usefulness. In his palmy days Bishop Morris preached with great unction and power

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Colonist reports the mines of British Columbia paying well

Dr Featherstone while breaking a horse at Lillooet was seriously injured in the back a few days ago

A few days ago Mr Al Smith of Lillooet bought at that place 55,000 lbs of extra flour at 3 cents per lb

Mr Martin Dodds of the Gorge and Mr James Deans, have been investigating a shell mound near the Gorge Retreat. While excavating for a kitchen skulls arrow points and an adze, all of stone were found. The adze is of jade stone which strange to say has never been found on this coast but is found in New Zealand Japan and other countries near to them. The skulls are round and goodsized entirely unlike those of the Indians of the present day. Mr Deans thinks that the relics were deposited there by Japanese many years ago

A TICKET FOR 76 —The Chicago Times does not harmonize with the present active element of the Democratic party which looks forward with hope to the future for the resurrection and reinstatement into office of some of the ancient and forgotten heroes of the old Democracy

In speaking of that most respectable gathering of the old wheel horses of Democracy at the White Sulphur Springs it says

A collection of ancient and moss covered political fossils at White Sulphur Springs having nominated 'Fog Horn' Allen of Ohio for President of the United States, it only remains to cap the climax of Bourbon stupidity for the Democratic State Convention at Springfield, next Tuesday to nominate War Horse Richardson for Vice President. Two more ancient skeletons from the old Bourbon graveyard it would be difficult to find on the continent. What Bourbonic death's head would not grin happily upon the presentation of such a ticket

STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET

'For Vice President—War Horse Richardson of Illinois'

A MURDEROUS BROTHER —Cincinnati Sept 1 —A horrible effort to kill a young woman was made by her brother at the dinner table in their father's house to day in the western part of the city. The unnatural brother is Oliver Stilin son of Ald James Stilin ex judge. He is 35 years of age unmarried and lives with his father and sister. His mother died a short time ago. At the dinner table to day the father and sister were shocked to see Oliver enter the dining room with a shot gun and, with an angry oath level the murderous weapon at them and fire. The buckshot with which the gun was loaded took effect in his sister's arm and the assassin fled but was soon caught and sent to the station house. His father who is a highly respected citizen asked that no bail be taken. The would be murderer has been drinking much of late and to this is attributed the crime. He refuses to say anything about the affair

How can I retain my power!" — that question is asked by wives who, having lost the charms which won their husbands, dread the catastrophe of a loveless union. Nothing is more certain to retain the love of a husband than a neat and attractive toilet. Take care of the hair, nails and the complexion. For the last named use Lyon's Kathairon. It is the best preparation for the hair known.

OREGON CITY ITEMS

Our correspondent sends the following under date of the 10th

The steamer Senator is as usual making daily trips to Portland with good freights each way

Mayor McCown started for Portland to-day and we are without that functionary temporarily

The farmers in this vicinity are hauling their straw to the paper mills and paper will be made therefrom in about two weeks in large quantities

A new wooden building is being erected by John Schram on a lot on Main street, near the A I & A M Hall. It is to be used as an office for the Enterprise newspaper. One room in the building will also be used as a Justice of the Peace office by M C Athey

The County Court yesterday refused to consummate the agreement to purchase Dr Thessing's building for a Court House. It put its three wise heads together and looked through its six eyes and saw or thought it saw a cloud on the title. Hence the refusal to buy. It however rented the building for four years at the annual rental of $2

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache biliousness nervous tremors constipation colic heartburn nausea debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion and in fact on all the fluids of the body and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organ

FACTS FOR THE FARMERS

Hon Alex. Delmar on the Crop Prospects of Europe.

THE CROPS IN GREAT BRITAIN AND ON THE CONTINENT—AN ESTIMATE OF WHAT ENGLAND'S DEMAND WILL BE FOR AMERICAN WHEAT

[Correspondence of the Chicago Inter Ocean]

PHILADELPHIA August 24—During a late visit to Russia in the character of statistical delegate I made arrangements in various countries of Europe to obtain information concerning their agricultural and crops of bread stuffs, a term which for the purpose of brevity is limited in this communication mainly to the great breadstuff wheat and its ordinary substitute, rye.

Sufficient of this information has been already received to warrant a preliminary estimate of the year's crops throughout the principal grain countries of the civilized world and although as the harvest season advances these estimates may have to be subjected to some modifications the greater degree of interest which attaches to them at the present time may account for what may otherwise seem premature publication

The total area (land and water) is 78 010 7[illegible] square acres of which England has 32 [illegible] Wales 4 [illegible] Scotland, 19,639,8[illegible] Ireland, 20 81[illegible] Isle of Man 180 000 Channel Islands 48 084 Total excluding lakes and rivers [illegible] acres

The cultivated area for 1873 was Under corn crops (including beans and peas) 11 42[illegible] acres green crops, 4,5[illegible], bare fallow, [illegible], grass clover etc under rotation 6 [illegible], permanent pasture, 23 [illegible], other, 20[illegible] total 46 9[illegible]6 917 total in 1872, 46,[illegible]. The change since 1872 consisted chiefly of a decrease of [illegible] 000 acres under corn etc 140 000 acres under green crops and 114 000 acres under grass etc and an increase of 5[illegible],000 acres under bare fallow and 325 000 acres under permanent pasture

An average crop of wheat in the United Kingdom is officially considered as 28 bushels to the acre [See British Agricultural Reports 18[illegible] p [illegible] and 1872 p 12]

The following table shows the acreage of wheat sown in the United Kingdom annually since 186[illegible]

Year	England and Wales	Scotland	Ireland	United Kingdom
[illegible]	3 300 000	100 000	300 000	3 661 351
[illegible]	3 [illegible]00,000	100 000	300 000	3 640,051
[illegible]	3,600,000	100 000	300 000	3 964,[illegible]
[illegible]	3,600 000	100 000	300 000	3 981 [illegible]
[illegible]	3,400,000	100 000	300 000	3 [illegible] 603
1871	3,400 000	100 000	300 000	3 831 [illegible]
[illegible]	3 [illegible]00 000	100 000	300 000	3,8[illegible]
[illegible]	3 400 000	100 000	260 000	3 670 2[illegible]

My latest advices indicate a total acreage in wheat this year of 3 600 000 and an average crop of twenty six bushels to the acre. This would amount to 93 600 000 bushels a rather better crop than last year but not so good as represented in some of the late English journals

The population of the United Kingdom at the middle of 187[illegible] was 32,124 598 at the middle of 1874 it was 32,412 010 The average annual consumption of wheat (and wheat flour reduced to grain) is reckoned at five and three fourths bushels per capita. The consumption this harvest year, 1874 5 would therefore amount to about 190 000 000 bushels of which nearly one half will have to be imported

The following table shows the quantity of wheat (and wheat flour reduced to wheat) imported in the eleven months of the harvest years Sept 1st to July 31, 1872, 1873 and 1874 respectively

Articles imported into the United Kingdom	Eleven months to July 31 '72	Eleven months to July 31 '73	Eleven months to July 31, '74
Wheat bushels	[illegible]	[illegible] 157 [illegible]	[illegible]
Wheat flour bushels	5 747 016	15 257 040	13 833 440
Total bushels	[illegible]	[illegible],408,444	87,[illegible]

If one eleventh be added to these totals to make the harvest year [illegible] August 31st the importations of wheat into the United Kingdom during the harvest year of 1873-4, will have been upward of 95,000 000 bushels, a fact that accords very closely with the estimated importation during the ensuing year, which is given above, viz about 92 400,000 bushels

The following figures show the quantities of wheat and wheat flour [illegible] imported from the United States in the [illegible] months of the harvest [illegible] 1 1873 to July 31 1874, [illegible] a portion of the quantities shown in the table immediately preceding

Articles imported from the United States into the United Kingdom eleven months to July 31 1874 Wheat 41 436 000 bushels wheat flour 5 505 760 bushels Total 47 941,760 bushels

Showing that during the eleven months ending July 31 1874 nearly 48 000 000 out of 87 250 000 of wheat and wheat flour imported into the United Kingdom during the period were imported from the United States On this basis and the crop and consumption estimated above, there would be imported from the United States during the ensuing year about 42 000 000 bushels but this calculation is liable to be modified by the movement of the crops of continental Europe

THE CROPS OF CONTINENTAL EUROPE—1874

Without entering into the [illegible] detail with regard to the crops of European countries, it may perhaps be sufficient at this writing to state the results of the data and estimates thus far received

France—Estimated breadstuff crops for 1874 Wheat 332,500 000 bushels rye 82 687 500 bushels meslin or meteil (mixed wheat and rye) about 30,000,000 bushels, total, 445,187,500 bushels [illegible] The other harvests have all been favorable

Russia—Advices from this country are very indefinite [illegible] bushels of wheat, 4[illegible],000,000 bushels of rye but upon what basis I am not informed Compared with previous years [illegible] indicate a large crop

Germany—The estimates indicate 120 000 000 bushels of wheat 300 000 000 bushels of rye and 5 000 000 bushels of meslin, altogether 425 000 000 bushels of bread corn—a fine harvest

Austria and Hungary—The average annual product of wheat and rye of the Austro-Hungarian Empire during the four years 1869-72 was as follows

Wheat bushels	103 750 643
Summer grain bushels	14 033 048
Rye bushels	126 446,620
Total	244 230 311

The exportation of wheat, rye and flour during the four years amounted to about 71 200 400 bushels, and the importation, to 20 052,000 bushels showing an excess of exports amounting to 51 148,400 bushels equal to an annual average of about 12 800 000 bushels Deducting this from the annual average product there was consumed in the Empire on an average each year about 232 000,000 bushels of wheat and rye Population Dec 31 1869 35 912 75[illegible] Average consumption about 6 4 bushels per capita The harvest of 1873 was unusually bad and the imports of wheat exceeded the exports The crop of this year (1874) is ample and of good quality and it is expected that the export trade which has been interrupted since 1871, will be resumed

Italy—A favorable harvest but it is expected the imports of grain will exceed the exports

All Europe—My estimate for all Europe gives the following results Wheat, 1,000 000 000 bushels rye 940,000,000, barley 740,000 000 oat 1 300 000 000 buckwheat and millet 150 000 000 maize 400 000 000, rice, 10 000 000 and meslin and other grains 500 000 000 bushels Total about 5 500 000 000 bushels The population being about 306 000 000 this would give an average of about 18 bushels per capita of population of all kinds of cereals Taking no account of the imports and exports and making a reasonable allowance for portions of the rye meslin and spelt, including under wheat which is consumed by animals as also the comparatively smaller quantities of oats maize etc consumed as human food one half this average, or say 9 bushels of corn per capita will be consumed in Europe during the ensuing year for human food If this average appears large it should be remembered that in the remote and poorer parts of Europe the consumption of cereals for human food is much higher than it is for example in England In Russia it is fully double animal food being but little used by the peasantry who form the greater bulk of the population

The fair prospects for an active business during the fall months are somewhat diminished by the circumstances of untoward weather and the delay in the movement of the grain crops but as yet no other peculiar features of discouragements are noticed and merchants and others are still hopeful that a degree of prosperity will yet attend the transactions of the season

Our local finances present a quiet place to look. The deposits at the banks are kept up to average and available funds are reported in full supply with but few demands Rates are given at 10@1[illegible] per cent in large sums for a term of ten year The general condition of the financial and mercantile markets is in but few particulars different from what we have reported it from day to day for months past. Rates for money are not perceptibly higher or lower than they were one month ago though important fluctuations were then predicted but which have been modified by the anomalous course which the grain trade has taken

The new issue of one dollar United States Treasury notes has made its appearance The new notes of this denomination like all the steel engraving bank note work of the Government is admirably executed While the general style of the new and the old one dollar notes is the same on the face the backs are entirely different On the face of the new note is the same central medallion head of Washington and left hand corner vignette of Columbus discovering America as well as the same right hand upper corner lathe-work denominational vignette There is no green tint on the face of the new note as is the case with the old issue The differences of engraving on the face of the new note are simply in the borders for numbers and in the red Treasury seal The latter is now smaller and placed between the Washington and Columbus vignettes In place of the large seal on the old note is a red border and lathe work over the black letters forming the words one dollar The back of the new note is green of course but of a new elaborate and intricate design of geometrics, lathe work, with a St Andrew's [illegible] in the center, bearing the words United States of America.

The Hop Crop in Washington Territory

From Mr Durgin who has just come up from the Puyallup region the Olympia Courier learns considerable of interest regarding the culture of hops there. The yield this season is estimated at about 100 000 pounds, of which Messrs. Hooker Bros. and Messrs Thompson & Mead are the largest producers These hops are said to rank in the market as first class—even having preference given them over the best of Eastern production They now bring 25 cents per pound delivered at Tacoma, with an upward tendency The yield in some instances has been enormous this year Some eight acres of Thompson & Mead's average about 4,000 pounds per acre. These are from the oldest vines, some of which have been planted nine years. The industry bids fair to have a vigorous growth in that Territory. The poles for an acre only costs about $30 per 1 000 here while they cost some $200 in the Eastern States Then there is no blight or disease to interfere with them here, and they can be picked much cheaper owing to the employment of Indians or perhaps Chinamen. It is thought that the amount in cultivation next year will require some 1,500 pickers who average about 30 pounds per day Planting of the vines has also begun in the Cowlitz Chehalis White River and Whatcom counties, and it is likely that ere long that Territory will be one of the great hop raising countries

The Condition of the Grain.

The following from the Forest Grove Independent of this date we presume pretty much represents the condition of the wheat and oat crop throughout this valley That paper says The showers of this week stopped work in the harvest field to the detriment of farmers. There is some wheat and a great deal of the oat crop unthrashed If this weather should hold through the present week a good deal of grain will be damaged T G Todd, the Gleason brothers Mr Alexander and several farmers on the south side of Gales creek on the Tualatin river and Wapato lake have large fields of wheat standing out some of it not cut and some in the shock The rain Sunday night was light and some began to thrash again Monday evening but rain came again Monday and Tuesday nights with cloudy weather during the daytime and now it would take a day or two of sunshine before work could begin Mr Alexander who lives some two miles southwest of the Grove has all of his spring crop in the shock yet. Mr Todd wanted to thrash it last Sunday but Mr Alexander desired to wait and we fear now that he will suffer damage Most all of the wheat crop is thrashed, however and the loss if any, will be mostly confined to late oats

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The receipts of this cereal are slightly increasing in volume but as yet they are so small that the vessels in port will all scarcely be loaded before the end of the month without a still greater flow of the grain seaward We learn that the mills are paying a little better figure than exporters can afford Of the vessels here 14 in number but two as yet have begun to receive any part of their cargo and neither of these is loaded Buyers are hardly so plentiful as last year and those in the market seem to be pretty thoroughly united on the establishment of rates. Offers for lots delivered here are no higher than they were one week ago though some claim that the market is stiffer We can hear of no bids above $1 45 per cental Unless the reports from Europe are colored to aid the wheat buyers to reduce the price of wheat in this country there is more than an average crop of wheat in the leading continental countries of Europe and some of them will have a liberal surplus to spare while Great Britain will still require a large supply, the demand from that country will be less than usual Under these circumstances we cannot see any prospect for a speedy advance in the wheat market.

FLOUR—The receipts of the product of the new wheat crop are more liberal and as the millers have been able to procure the raw material at lower rates their product is tending downward accordingly The decline since our last weekly review has been 25@50c ℔ bbl and the best brands of extras are jobbing at $5 ℔ bbl good country brands $4 25@4 75 fine $3 75 and superfine $4 Cargo lots could probably be secured on even better terms

OATS—The receipts from the interior still adequately supply the current demand which is not extensive. The new crop being much lighter than was anticipated holders are feeling encouraged by the prospect but as yet there has been no advance on our last quotations In fact at this writing prices are weak at 43 cents per bushel for choice in sacks The crop this year it is now thought will fall 25 per cent. below what was estimated two months ago

BARLEY—From reports concerning the harvest there is no doubt but the yield is good—fully up to the average The crop has been saved in good condition and prices realized are satisfactory while the future of the market seems to be encouraging We quote choice at $1 50 per 100 ℔s including sacks common and feed $1 37½@1 40

FEED—The supplies are rather better but prices remain steady at $12@14 per ton for bran $15@18 for shorts and $18@20 for chops middlings etc

HAY—The receipts are fair for the season and quotations firm at $10@11 per ton for choice baled timothy $9@10 per load from wagons. Wild hay is not wanted

POTATOES—The receipts have somewhat fallen off and for choice lots prices are better We quote best qualities in sacks, at 60 cents per bushel, inferior 35@40 cents

ONIONS—The market is in fair supply prices depending much on the quality of offers and the wants of buyers The shipping demand is not active, and quotations range from $1 25@1 [illegible] per 100 pounds.

FRUIT—The market is abundantly supplied with several varieties and as much of it is very perishable prices for the most part depend upon the wants of buyers, and quotations that are good for one day may be far from correct twenty four hours later Choice apples for shipping neatly boxed are worth 50@60c per box loose from wagons, 40@50c peaches quotable 60@85c ℔ plums 4@5c pears 50@75c per box, watermelons 10@25c musk 20@25c.

DRIED FRUITS—The market is dull at [illegible] ℔ for apples in sacks and 8c in kegs Plums and peaches are unchanged

BACON—The receipts are very small and prices continue firm with an advancing tendency Choice side meats are in brisk demand at 11½@12c ℔ shoulders and hams are also scarce in fair demand and quotable at 9@10c ℔ for the former and 14@16c for the latter

LARD—We note no change in the condition of our home market quotations standing at 14@16c ℔ in kegs and tins

BUTTER—The recent receipts have been light and prices are better than at our last report We quote choice roll at 30c common [illegible] ℔

CHEESE—Oregon made is more plentiful but prices are sustained at 16@17c ℔ jobbing rates

EGGS—The receipts this week have increased and under advices from San Francisco prices have declined to 25@27c ℔ dozen

POULTRY—The supply of chickens is not excessive and all offering are freely taken at $2@3 50 for choice lots of grown ℔ dozen and $3 for spring Ducks tame $5 wild $2 50 geese $9@10 ℔ doz.

LIVESTOCK—The arrivals during the week have been large and to find ready sale cattle or sheep must be No 1 We quote choice beef cattle on foot at 5c inferior 3½@4½c Best mutton sheep $2 50@3 common $1 75@2 ℔ head.

HIDES—Well trimmed undamaged dry hides are quotable at 16c ℔ ℔ green ditto at 7c, but if any blemishes reduction is made

WOOL—Prices are nominally firm at 20@25c for finest washed and 20@22½c ℔ for common
